September Field Trip to Historic Jekyll Island Gardens

The first field trip of the season, a private tour of gardens in the historic district on Jekyll Island, is scheduled for Thursday, September 17th. The cost is $5.00, and we will meet at 9:00 a.m. at Faith Chapel near the Jekyll Island Hotel. For those wishing to carpool, please meet at the Cabins at 8:15 a.m. Contact Field Trip Chair, Janis Rodriguez for more information and to sign up: 638-9455.or Janisemr@AOL.com.

Record Number of Summer Cabin Visitors

Docent Chair, Jennifer Kuja reports that almost 500 people visited the Cassina Cabins and grounds during the open house each Wednesday during the summer. Thanks to Peggy Golden and The Brunswick News, notices of the Docent tours were posted each week in the newspaper from June–August. Summer Docents included: Frances Allen, Barbara Bruce, Sue Cansler, Leslie Carlton, Mary Carnathan, Anne Caswell, Liz DeMato, Marie Dodd, Martha Jane Dodson, Dottie Fielder, Sharon Flores, Ladye Heisel, Libby Hogan, Jennifer Kuja, Beverly Nash, Janis Rodriguez, Sandy Storino, Sara Taylor and Denise Trethaway.

Docent Training for new members and other interested members will be Wednesday, September 16, at 10:00 in the Meeting Cabin.

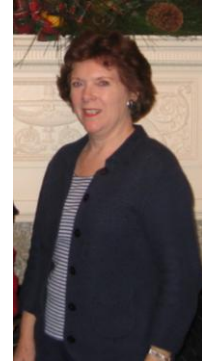

Website Wins National Award

The National Garden Clubs, Inc. awarded Cassina the First Place award for the most outstanding Club website in the United States. This prestigious recognition also included a monetary award. Sara Lanier, outgoing President of the Garden Club of Georgia pictured on right, made the presentation to (l-r) Dottie Fielder, Awards Chair; Kay Harrell, Webmaster; and Sharon Flores, President.

25th Annual Christmas Tour of Homes

Chair Anne Aspinwall and her committee have worked throughout the summer to develop exciting plans for the twenty-fifth Tour of Homes. To celebrate the success of a quarter century of offering holiday decorating ideas to our visitors, the 2009

Tour will feature the homes of five Cassina members with a spotlight on beautiful, fresh Island greenery.

The Christmas Tour will be held Saturday, December 12th from 11:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m. The annual Bake Sale, under the leadership of Sue Chambless, will be held at the Meeting Cabin from 10:00 a.m.– 3:00 p.m.

New Members Coffee

M. J. Choate and the Membership Committee hosted a lovely coffee on August 12th to welcome the new Cassina members. Officers and Board Members presented an overview of club activities and responsibilities to the new members and their sponsors. M. J.'s lovely home was the perfect setting to introduce the new members to each other and to the Board.

Garden Club of Georgia Engagement Calendar

Prepaid orders for the 2010 Calendar will be taken at the September Meeting by Chair Betty Davis. The price for the pocket size is $7.00 and the standard size is $9.00. Revenue from the sale of these calendars funds scholarships for deserving students attending Georgia colleges or universities and majoring in garden related fields.

Cabin and Grounds Improvements

If you haven't visited the Meeting Cabin this summer, you are in for a wonderful surprise. Thanks to the efforts of Preservation Chair, Phillis Harrell, there is now great display space for our many historic artifacts, books, awards and Club memorabilia. Glass enclosed bookcases and lucite-covered hanging panels provide a secure and visually-pleasing way to tell both the story of the Island and Cassina. Now, we need volunteers to design vignettes for each panel to represent different historic periods. Interested? Please contact Sharon Flores.

You may not recognize the stately oak pictured on the right ... but it is located in front of the Cabins by Arthur J. Moore Drive. The glorious natural spreading habit of the Live Oak has been hidden for years by unsightly undergrowth. Janis Rodriguez and her husband Cesar decided that it was time for the specimen oak to show her beauty. They spent many weeks during the hot summer clearing out the weeds and other debris to reveal this beautiful sight. We all truly appreciate the Rodriguez's initiative and hard work!

September Gardening

Yes, cooler weather will be coming...and with it, gardening that is more pleasant. The warning for this month is to watch for fungus and insect problems that might come with cool damp nights and warm days. Mildew, especially on crape myrtle, zinnias, and roses, can be expected. Use a fungicide and be sure to spray the top and the bottom of leaves.

Lawns

A complete fertilizer should be applied to the lawn in mid to late September. Watch for insect damage (sod webworms, chinch bugs, and mole crickets). If there is mole cricket damage to your lawn, this is the last month to apply mole cricket bait. Brown patch fungus disease can attack St. Augustine, centipede, or Bermuda grass when the days are warm and the nights are cool and wet. If grass dies in circular areas (5 to 6 feet), apply a lawn fungicide.

Shrubs and Trees

Cosmetic pruning of shrubs can be done now, but avoid any major pruning after early September. Fertilize shrubs and young trees for maximum growth and cold hardiness this month. The final azalea fertilizer should be applied mid-September to stimulate good bud set for the next year's bloom period. This should also be the last time you fertilize palms until next March. Using a palm fertilizer will insure that the plants get the needed micronutrients.

If you plan to transplant any shrubs or small trees this winter, now is the time to "root prune" them. Cut a circle around the plant at the drip line so new roots will form close to the plant.

Annuals

This is not a good time to plant cool weather annuals, but the University of Florida recommends planting digitalis (foxglove) for spring bloom. In our area, digitalis must be treated as an annual, but at least deer don't like it.

Perennials

Any perennials that have finished blooming can be divided and replanted at this time. It is a good time to divide daylilies. Cut the daylily leaves back to 12-14 inches and replant at the same depth.

Vegetables

According to the University of Florida, these vegetables can be planted in our area this month: snap beans, pole beans, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, lettuce, cucumber, bulbing or bunching onions, radishes, and summer squash.
